Message from Canon Alan

As our Christmas season comes to an end, what a strange Christmas it has been. Attendance at the services have been very varied. The Carol Service and penitential Service were cancelled. Bits of the Carol Service appeared as part of our Christmas Masses and we kept praying and singing through it all. This is an amazing parish because even with all the difficulties and disappointments we have had a great Advent and Christmas season. I am particularly delighted that St Joseph's School and St Michaels College have been a very special part of our parish celebrations this year. I cannot thank enough those who have made it all possible. Team work makes this a very special place. We were even able to move on with the Synod discussions and report. Thank You to all who have made that possible. I know our singers and musicians were very disappointed but thank you for being so gracious. Thank you everyone for your kindness to me. Your very generous Christmas offerings and the gifts were overwhelming. I feel very lucky to be your Parish Priest for such a long time. Last year was very tough but together we have pulled through. My love and thanks to you all. Let's us hold our heads high as we face the storms that may come. With and through each other and in the name of Jesus we never walk alone.
